Mindfulness in Motion: Authentic Movement as Spiritual Practice is an intensive workshop. Our intention is to provide a safe environment for experiential growth and learning among all the participants. As an intensive program that works with the body, intellect, emotions and spirit, we recognize that some people may find certain aspects of the program to be challenging.

Through each individual's willingness to take responsibility for his or her personal health and safety, and to respect the other participants, everyone in the workshop can share a full, rewarding, and enlivening experience.

Please note that there will be occasional AM sessions in which participants will not receive direct witness feedback. As such, you should feel confident enough in your own 'inner witness' and ability to process your own movement experiences through drawing, writing, or reflection to handle this type of learning environment.

Our policy is to enroll qualified students without discrimination on the basis of race, religion, sex, national origin, age, physical handicap, political affiliation, or sexual orientation.

I have carefully read the above paragraph and the full course description and I fully understand its procedures and requirements, including tuition fees and refund policies for the program.
